

The Federal Communications Commission

Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

I am writing to express my displeasure with any addition flat fee, to the Universal Service Fund, under consideration, by the FCC.

I believe this is an example of the major telephone companies crying in their beer about small companies being profitable, at lower prices. Banks do the same thing about Credit Unions.

Please reject any new fee proposal.

The proposal under consideration, people who make few long distance calls would pay the same as people or businesses that make many calls. In other words, people like me, low-volume and primarily residential customers, would bear the same fee burden as a high-volume residential or business customers.

This is unfair! I use my wireless phone for safety and convenience. I don't want to lose these benefits so that big businesses can pay less than their fair share.

I am concerned that this proposal could make my current service unaffordable. As a retired senior citizen, I do not want to pay more for my telephone service!

Please reject the proposal to move the USF collection system to a flat-fee.

Sincerely,
